Pittsfield Coding Cats Robotics Team Receives Judges' Trophy Award

The Pittsfield Coding Cats Robotics Team competed in the FIRST Lego League Qualifying Tournament in Wolfeboro on November 16th. Although they did not score high enough to qualify to move forward to the State Championship level, they did receive the Judges' Trophy Award for their excellent Innovation Project called "Right Whale Entanglement." With only about 360 Right whales left in the North Atlantic oceans, the team felt they had to come up with a possible solution to help both lobster fishermen and the whales. The whales get entangled in the lines that mark the trap line's location and then cannot feed on the krill or feed their young. The team's solution includes sinking the buoy and spool of rope with the heavy traps, locating it later using an attached GPS and then releasing the buoy with a hook to float to the surface. This results in no rope left dangling in the water where the migrating and feeding whales would get entangled. The team was commended for their research and outreach to help the whales. The Lego designed Award will live at Pittsfield Elementary School in the trophy case with their model lobster boat and Innovative Solution model. The team wants to thank Whitegate Investment Financial and the Wolfe family for their support. They also want to thank UNH and their Ocean Discovery Day docents, experts, and students who helped the team by patiently answering their questions and giving feedback to their ideas. Kathy Mahanes for the Pittsfield School District

What is important to you?

- Local news and updates?
- New businesses in town?
- Information about the schools?
 - Classified ads for local opportunities?
- Recipes? Puzzles? Poetry? Student submissions?
 - A calendar of local events?
- Letters/opinions from residents and/or potential local political candidates?
- Special Editions regarding PMHS Graduation or Local Elections?
- A local publication that can print your own submissions?

The Pittsfield Post, a free bi-weekly newsletter (every other week), provides all this and more. A printed version of the Post may be found in various stores and the Post Office in Pittsfield on alternating Wednesdays; a digital subscription will send it directly to your email inbox; or you may find it at your convenience on the webpage:

www.pittsfieldnhcommunitycenter.org And it's all at no cost to you! That's right. Nada, zip, zero.

How can that be? Well, the Pittsfield Post is a nonprofit organization that relies solely on donations and advertising. And now is a time when we could use more of both from our readers! As you well know, living costs continue to rise, and the Post faces that same reality.

Recently we published several expanded issues, including one entire additional publication to bring you the latest Pittsfield election coverage. There were letters from interested readers, statements from local candidates in response to questions presented by the Post, ads and comments from all parties, and news of upcoming events. Our small group of volunteers offered additional personal time for content management, page layout, editing, and delivery. It was a big task for a small group, but we think our efforts were worth it. And we hope you think so, too! The sad fact is that all our expanded efforts, while creating added costs, do not necessarily translate into added revenue. That brings us to the bottom line. We need your help.

Please donate! Any amount will help to defray costs. The easiest way is to go to our webpage: www.pittsfieldnhcommunitycenter.org Click on the 'Donate' button and give by using PayPal, credit card, or debit card. Or, you could send a check made out to Pittsfield Center Development Corporation (PCDC), [memo: newspaper], PO Box 253, Pittsfield, NH, 03263. Lastly, anyone who volunteers on the Pittsfield Post staff would be happy to accept a check or cash donation. We'll see that it gets to the right place!

Donations are totally tax deductible. And if you have suggestions or questions for us, we're always listening! Contact us at: pittsfieldnews@pnhcc.org
Thank you for your continued support!

Dear Crabby:

I am disturbed by how many school districts are being disrupted by conflicts over transgender students in sports programs. What can I do to lower the heat on this subject? Soccer Pop

Dear Pop: Get your friends to tell their School Board members that if they can't deal with these gender issues they ought to get their schools out of competitive athletics. And probably out of the courtroom.

Then tell these board members to put their effort into teaching the students how to read, understand basic mathematics and learn something about science.

Panther Updates

Note to Readers: To better inform our community about school district activities, each month the Pittsfield Post will publish a portion of the reports submitted to the Pittsfield School Board.

Pittsfield Elementary School News

I am excited to share some outstanding news regarding the 2024 federal accountability determinations finalized by the New Hampshire Department of Education: Pittsfield Elementary School is officially in good standing! This achievement reflects the unwavering dedication, hard work, and care of our staff in supporting students and addressing their diverse needs. The positive impact of these efforts is evident in our growth data:

- English Language Arts: 55% of our students exceeded their growth measure for the year, placing Pittsfield Elementary in the middle 50% for student growth across the state.
- Mathematics: 62% of our students exceeded their growth measure for the year, placing us in the top 25% for student growth statewide!

Last year, we set the goal of meeting students where they were and helping them grow—and the results are nothing short of extraordinary. This success is not achieved in isolation but is a direct result of our collective focus to support students and foster their growth. In the future our students' growth should build to an increased percentage of students in the "proficient and above" category. The dedication, expertise, and commitment of our staff have been instrumental in achieving this milestone, and it is a testament to the strength of our school community.

A new slogan, "Reading 20 minutes a day is the Panther Way," has been developed to inspire students and families to prioritize reading. Students are designing bookmarks featuring this slogan, which will serve as a reminder of the importance of daily reading.

Pittsfield Middle High School News

The Middle and High School 2024 federal accountability determinations for student learning growth are both in good standing. With these determinations Pittsfield's elementary, middle and high schools are all in good standing for the first time since 2017.

On November 18 seniors participated in ApplyNH. In collaboration with Granite Edvance, seniors had access to admission counselors to apply for admission to any NH college, university, or trade school (all application fees were waived). A total of 21 seniors participated and were accepted to a wide range of NH schools. The college admission counselors visiting PMHS also helped students apply to schools out of state, such as Mercy College, College of Charleston, and the University of New Haven. Our partners from Granite Edvance returned on December 10 to present Financial Aid 101 that provided an overview of the federal financial aid process, review scholarship searches, and highlighted the importance of meeting deadlines.

Students in tenth grade and above, with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher, were recently notified of their eligibility to apply for membership to the National Honor Society. Applications, which included an essay, were due prior to the Thanksgiving Break. The PMHS Faculty Council reviewed applications and made selections, in preparation of our annual induction ceremony held on December 16.

The Winter Concert was held on December 11. Mr. Dzengelewski, our new music teacher, thoughtfully and creatively organized the production. Students enrolled in band and chorus classes performed along with additional students that expressed an interest and were able to participate in rehearsals.

Derek Hamilton, Principal, PMHS

Special Education Paraeducators 101

Some students at the Pittsfield School District have special education paraeducators prescribed in their Individual Education Programs (IEPs) by the IEP team. Paraeducators, also known as rehabilitative assistants, are adults who are hired to either behaviorally or instructionally support some students with disabilities (not every child with a disability needs a paraeducator). Paraeducators at Pittsfield also cover duties in the buildings, such as: recess, lunch, arrival, dismissal, or other duties as assigned. The main role of paraeducators is responsibility for reinforcing academic skills, delivering accommodations, social/ behavioral redirection, cuing, and/or prompting. Paraeducators are only assigned to classes based on individual student IEP needs and as determined by the special education teacher and Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA).

There are three main different types of paraeducators hired at Pittsfield School District. The first is Paraeducator I. A Paraeducator I has at least a high school diploma and has the desire and skill to work with youth with disabilities. Paraeducator II is a professional that has at least an associate's degree, equivalent college credits, or has a certification from the New Hampshire Department of Education (NHDOE) for their Paraeducator II license. Registered Behavior Technicians (RBTs) are another type of paraeducator we hire. RBTs are prescribed by an IEP team and work with some students who have Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) programs.

Cranberry Buttermilk Pound Cake

This cranberry studded pound cake is certain to bring smiles and make your holiday even more festive. The fresh cranberry sauce really makes this cake quite special. You might also want to add a generous dollop of whipped cream or a scoop of vanilla icecream. This pound cake also makes a lovely hostess gift. Wishing you all a very happy holiday! Bon appetit!

Cranberry Buttermilk Pound Cake

- 3 cups all purpose flour
- 1 tsp baking powder
- 1 & 1/3 cups butter, softened
- 2 & 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 TBSP vanilla extract
- 6 eggs
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 1 cup coarsely chopped fresh cranberries
- 1 recipe Fresh Cranberry Sauce (see sauce recipe at right)

Heat oven to 325. Grease and flour a 10-inch bundt cake pan. In a medium bowl, combine flour and baking powder. In a large bowl, beat butter with a hand-mixer on medium to high until light and fluffy, 30 to 60 seconds. Add sugar, beat until mixture is pale and fluffy, about 2 minutes. Beat in vanilla extract. Add eggs, one at a time, beating on low after each addition, until well combined.

Alternately add flour mixture and buttermilk to the beaten mixture, starting and ending with the flour mixture. Fold in cranberries. Spread the batter into the prepared bundt cake pan. Bake until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean, about 75 to 85 minutes. Cool on a rack for 15 minutes. Remove cake from the pan and continue to cool on a wire rack.

Fresh Cranberry Sauce (for serving)

In a medium saucepan, combine 1 & 1/2 cups fresh cranberries, 1/2 cup cranberry juice and 1/4 cup brown sugar. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and cook, uncovered, stirring from time to time, until mixture thickens and cranberries burst, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and cool before serving.
