A FREE WEEKLY PRODUCTION BY COMMUNITY VOLUNTEERS

"Perhaps Christmas doesn't come from a store. Maybe Christmas perhaps means a little bit more." Dr. Seuss

December 20, 2023

Hello from the PMHS National Honor Society

We are running a food drive to supplement the supply of food, beverages, and toiletries in our school's food pantry, from now until December 21st. It is important to the National Honor Society that PHMS students are provided for over the holiday break. If you would like to support our school community and the National Honor Society, donations are greatly needed. Please bring them to boxes located at the following locations in town:

- PMHS Front Office
- Pittsfield Youth Workshop
- Josiah Carpenter Library
- Main Street Variety
- Bell Brothers
- Diomedes Restaurant

All donations are appreciated! Thank you for your generosity! Sincerely, the PMHS National Honor Society.

EMMA BAKER

Student on the spot.

Emma Baker is a student at Pittsfield Middle High School in the 12th grade. Emma is involved in Soccer, Softball, Yearbook, Concord Regional Technical Center, and actively involved in planning senior class events.

What activities are you engaged in? I am engaged in my job, I know that is such a silly thing to say. However my job is preparing me for what I want to be in the future, so it's not even like a job is going somewhere I have the most fun.

What are some extracurricular activities that you are involved in? Some extracurricular I am in, I am someone who enjoys playing sports so I take part in both soccer and softball. Then for school clubs and organizations I am not part of any that you have listed simply because the times that they meet is either during content block which is during the time I am at CRTC (Concord Regional Technical Center), or it is something you need to be asked to join, in which I have never been asked to join any of those. However I feel I do play a good size role, last year I may have not been a president or vice president I played a big role on prom committee and I also was the main fundraiser, and this year I may not be president or vice president but I am helping plan senior trip, and I am filling out all the papers for fundraising.

What motivates you? Well it depends on the thing. I have different reasons, for school I am motivated because one I want to graduate but also I want to be successful with my dreams. I am motivated in taking a lead role in fundraising and helping plan senior trip because I don't want to disappoint the people in my grade, I want them all to enjoy the last year we all have together. Then lastly sports, sports is a difficult one because I love playing so much however I don't have many friends so it makes it kind of lonely however I love all of the memories I get from them and the special bonds you get with the sports, so I guess the feeling you get when you succeed in the sport is what motivates me.

What is your favorite class? Its really tough to choose my favorite class, simply because all of them are silly in their own way. But if I had to choose a class it would probably be English. Mrs. Carson has her class setup so it is welcoming, fun and calm, which makes me want to be in there all day.

What school events are you looking forward to? I am looking forward to all of the school events. Competition is so much fun especially when you are the one who wins. During these events you can see your class come together and actually enjoy the times. These events make for wonderful memories and so many laughs. Also prom I am so ready to boogie it down, I also hope more people do that this year because I was one of the only ones last year. Then I am also ready to see all of the hard work I've put in for senior trip come together (I know that's not right to say but so far I've pushed the hardest in our little planning groups to get stuff done).

Cook's Corner Chocolate Bundt Cake

Were you looking for that one special dessert to serve for Christmas, something different? Here's your solution. This cake is divine, truly divine. You can use a regular Bundt pan, but if you have a decorative, fluted one, it will make a lovely presentation piece. One of my favorite ways to serve this decadent dessert is with a scoop or three of good quality vanilla ice cream, or whipped cream and a few generous spoonfuls of macerated fresh raspberries (berries tossed in a little bit of sugar). If there's any leftover, you might consider putting a slice out for Santa. I hear he loves his chocolate cake! Don't forget to put out carrots and celery sticks for Santa's reindeer. I still believe....

Please accept my warmest and very best wishes to you and yours for a lovely holiday. Merry, Merry and Ho! Ho! Ho! MP Christakos

Unsweetened cocoa powder

2 cups all purpose flour

1 tsp baking soda

½ tsp salt

4 oz unsweetened chocolate, chopped (about 2/3 cup)

¾ cup butter (1 & ½ sticks), softened

1 cup granulated sugar

¾ cup packed brown sugar

3 eggs, room temperature

1 & ½ tsp vanilla extract

1 & ¼ cup water

Heat oven to 325. Generously grease a 10 inch fluted tube pan (Bundt pan). Add cocoa powder. Shake and tilt pan to generously coat bottom, sides and tube; shake out any excess.

Stir together flour, baking soda, and salt in a medium bowl. In a small bowl, microwave unsweetened chocolate in 30-second intervals, 1 to 2 minutes or until melted, stirring until smooth. Cool slightly.

Place butter in a large bowl. Beat on medium to high 30 seconds. Add granulated sugar and brown sugar. Beat until combined. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add melted chocolate and vanilla; beat until well combined. Alternately add flour mixture and water to the chocolate mixture, beat on low after each addition just until combined. Pour into prepared pan, spreading evenly.

Bake 55 to 60 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool in the pan on a wire rack 15 minutes. Remove cake from the pan; cool completely on a wire rack. Sift the powdered sugar over the top of the cake.

One of my favorite ways to serve this decadent cake is with a scoop of good quality vanilla ice cream and a few spoonful's of macerated raspberries (berries tossed in a little a sugar). Yum-O!
