"Strange, isn't it? Each man's life touches so many other lives." Clarence in It's a Wonderful Life

December 5, 2024

It's A Wonderful Life, Live Radio Play Comes to the Scenic Theatre Friday and Saturday, December 13 and 14, at 7:30pm, and Sunday, December 15, at 2pm

Experience your favorite holiday movie in shortened live play magic as The Pittsfield Players bring to the Scenic stage, "It's A Wonderful Life, Live Radio Play" (short version) adapted by Joe Landry from the story "The Greatest Gift" by Philip Van Doren Stern.

The annual Christmas show by The Pittsfield Players is always a magical time for us because we have the opportunity to bring people to the stage who have never been in a show, or bring back ones who have been absent for a while and meld them with our experienced talent to produce an incredible, heartwarming story for all. This year will be no exception. What makes this year just a little different is the amount of young and experienced performers coming together to perform this tale we all know so well.

While George Bailey is played by Cormac Diomede, who first came to us through the Children's Summer Theatre Camp directed by Bea Douglas; George's mother, Rose, will be played by Lena Luongo who has been with the Players since the 1980s. Joseph, the experienced angel, will be performed by well-known Luca J. Pellegrine and Quin Rao will play Angel Second Class, Clarence. Director Meggin Dail and assistant, John Chinn had such a great turnout at audition they were able to cast everyone who auditioned, giving both youth and experienced Players single, dual and multiple roles with plenty of surprise elements.

This is not your typical radio show and we plan to not only respect the tradition of "It's a Wonderful Life" with its message of goodness but to entertain you with some behind-the-scenes fun from this talented group. Don't miss your opportunity to feel the warmth and love this holiday season. Tickets, $12, can be reserved by calling (603) 435-8852; or visiting our website www.pittsfieldplayers.org.

This program ensures groceries are available over the weekend. To sign your family up, go to <https://registration.end68hoursofhunger.org/> We're seeking community heroes to assist with weekly bagging and delivery every Thursday morning. To learn more, contact Mike Curtin or Kate Price at mcurtin@sau51.org or kprice@sau51.org

Josiah Carpenter Library is in need of the following items and would appreciate any donations: contact paper, small reward stickers, party favors/prizes, glue sticks, sticky back googly eyes, construction paper, markers, pocket folders, cardstock, cotton balls, apple juice, goldfish crackers, fruit snacks, microwave popcorn. All of these items will benefit the staff and visitors who participate in the various adult and children's programs. Donations would allow the annual budget to provide more for patrons.

Looking for a holiday gift? The Pittsfield Historical Society's 2025 calendar, titled From the Womb to the Tomb, is an ideal present for others or for yourself. Twelve months of holiday giving in one gift. It features a snapshot of Pittsfield's professional community, primarily in the health and medical fields. It is available for $15 at the Town Hall, at the Society Museum, at Josiah Carpenter Library, and by contacting Fuzz Freese at 603-848-4488.

Happy Birthday wishes to Cassie Smith and Stacey Wittenberg on Thurs, Dec. 5; to Heather Tuttle on Fri, Dec.6; to Heather Davis and Jeff Miller on Sun, Dec. 8. I hope you all enjoy your special day.

Jacquelyn Arey

Jacquelyn Eleanor Arey, 78, of Pittsfield, passed away on Tuesday, Nov. 26, 2024 at Merrimack County Nursing Home in Boscawen. Jackie was born on Sept. 8, 1946 in Concord to the late Bruce and Beatrice (Stone) Adams and was part of Pittsfield High School's Class of 1964.

Jacquelyn held numerous jobs in her life, from running the office at the Pittsfield Box Shop, to working on the ambulance crew; however, her final (and favorite) job was as a clerk at Danis Market in Pittsfield, where she would joke with customers as they checked out. During her time at Danis Market, Jackie met many new friends and renewed many old acquaintances. She was known for her humorous attitude, strong will, independence, and love for her family.

Jackie had a knack for sassy banter, especially with her brother Jim, which always entertained family at holiday events. Jackie also had an incredible memory and could recite any event from the past with dates and times. Family members always relied on Jackie to verify birthdays, weddings, deaths, or any other event, and often referred to her as "rain man".

Jacquelyn is survived by her brother, James "Jim" Adams and his wife Sandra; her aunt, Carol Esburnett; her grandchildren, Brittney Briggs, Katie Isabelle, and Christopher Briggs Jr.; her great grandchildren, Kamden, Karlie, and Eleanor; her niece and nephew, Aimee Adams and Jim Adams and his wife Priscilla; and several cousins, including Nicole (Esburnett) McKenzie and her husband Russell, and her son Christopher Briggs.

Calling hours will be held on Monday, Dec. 9, 2024 from 2-4pm at Roan Family Funeral Home - Still Oaks Chapel, 1217 Suncook Valley Highway in Epsom. Please come and share your Jackie stories with us, as we know Jackie would love that. Burial will be held at Floral Park at a later date.

The family would like to express their heartfelt gratitude to the Merrimack County Nursing Home for the excellent care Jackie received while there.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations can be made to the Pope Memorial SPCA at 94 Silk Farm Road, Concord, NH 03301. To share a memory or offer a condolence, please visit www.roanfamilyfuneral.com.

Outstanding Response By Our Pittsfield Fire Department

On Sunday, Nov. 24, the day the wind blew nearly all day and Concord reported 39 mile-per-hour gusts, the Pittsfield Fire Department made an outstanding stop. The Department responded to a structure fire on Loudon Road minutes after the alarm was sounded.

Pittsfield, with the help of our neighboring mutual aid communities, had the fire under control within 40 minutes. Considering the fact that many folks were visiting family and friends before the holiday is even further testimony to their dedication and professionalism last Sunday. The homeowners were away when the fire started and no firemen were injured during the process of putting the fire out, despite a wild, unpredictable wind pushing the flames dangerously across the scene. The family dog was uninjured and saved from the flames.

We are indeed fortunate to have such devoted people serving the town of Pittsfield, and on Sunday all of their training and hard work paid off. The members of the Pittsfield Select Board would like to express our gratitude for a job well done. Jim Adams, Pittsfield Select Board

Tax Bills Come With a Surprise

Shock and awe. That's what most of us felt on opening our property tax bills this season. Almost every property owner saw a substantial and unexpected rise in the amount owed. A rise due in December is challenging for everyone. It is seriously difficult for many. After five or six years of nearly flat municipal budgets and stability in the tax rate, this rise comes as a jolt, but it is no one's fault. The Select Board, the Budget Committee, the department heads, and the various committee chairs have worked diligently to keep the taxes as low as possible and still provide the quality of services that Pittsfield residents expect and deserve.

At present, factors beyond anyone's control have swept in and immediately limited our ability to 'hold the line' in the way we all have become accustomed. Inflation sent the cost of everything soaring. For example: the cost of asphalt paving material for our road and sidewalk projects rose from $70 per ton to $150 per ton in less than six months. Multiple sudden storms damaged culverts and drainage all over town. Fuel costs remained high throughout the year. Sending one newly hired police officer to the New Hampshire Police Academy costs municipal governments $65,000. We also incurred the expense of three elections in 2024—Municipal, Primary, and the General. This year, and likely next year as well, (2025 is a year for periodic property reassessment) is a perfect storm of expenses.

To mitigate some of the impact ahead, the Select Board has voted some drastic steps to get the property owners some relief. We have decided to remove $85,000 worth of highway and sidewalk projects from the 2025 budget. We will recommend to the voters that we have a one year moratorium on all contributions to the Capital Improvement Plans. This amounts to $545,000 in the year 2025. The combination is a $630,000 reduction in the municipal budget for 2025.

There is risk to this course of action. It will take years to restore the CIP accounts to where they must be whenever it comes time to replace required equipment. And we will be unable to continue with our successful campaign to maintain the road network and restore the sidewalks that link the downtown area and the schools. However, the Select Board feels that it is critical in the near term to reduce some of the tax burden our people face now. And as always we will be looking for any other savings as we move forward. It is our hope that in 2026 and beyond we will be able to restore the budget to cover the needed array of line items. J. C. Allard

Holiday Family Concert in Barnstead on Saturday,
Dec. 7, at 4pm

It's getting cold and there is frost on the pumpkins, so it must be time for Maine music luminaries Joyce Andersen & Harvey Reid to return to Barnstead and share their Christmas music with us. This is the 24th year that they have presented their unique Christmas show to New England communities. Their concert for us last year was a great success and we invite you to make it a family tradition. Join us at the Congregational Church of North Barnstead (504 North Barnstead Road) on Saturday, Dec. 7, at 4pm. The suggested donation is $15 or $25 for the family.

Joyce Andersen and Harvey Reid have been making music professionally for their entire lives; both toured extensively across the country and abroad, earning a long list of awards and recognition for their distinctive and deeply-rooted Americana music. They play folk, country, bluegrass, blues, Celtic and even some classical music. They will ride their musical sleigh effortlessly across genres and centuries, from banjos to blues to Beethoven, from elves to Elvis, from wise men and camels to Willie Nelson and reindeer. It will be a great way to start the Christmas season,

Cook's Corner

Chicken Cutlets with Creamy Pesto & Tomatoes and Provençal Bread

With “turkey day” behind us, I bet you’re all looking for something different for dinner. You’ve come to the right spot. These two recipes are easy and absolutely delicious. If you plan to serve the chicken cutlets over pasta, you may want to double the sauce ingredients. Now for the bread recipe, as you might imagine, I enjoy watching cooking shows. Several years ago I saw a program where the famous chef, Jacques Pepin, was showcasing recipes from his childhood in the south of France. One idea he shared was this Provençal Bread. It is so simple and yet so delicious and comforting. It will remind you of Italian focaccia. It’s a great side for pasta, salad or soup. I like to sprinkle fresh grated Parmesan cheese on this bread before serving, which is best served warm. Bon Appetit mes amis! MP Christakos

Chicken Cutlets with Creamy Pesto & Tomatoes

- 1 lb chicken cutlets
- ¼ tsp salt, divided
- ¼ tsp pepper, divided
- 1 TBSP olive oil
- ½ cup finely chopped red onion
- ½ cup dry white wine
- ½ cup heavy cream
- ¼ cup prepared pesto
- 1 medium roma tomato, chopped
- 2 TBSP chopped, fresh basil

Sprinkle chicken with 1/8 tsp salt and 1/8 tsp pepper. Heat oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat. Add chicken and cook, turning once, until browned and cooked through, about 6 minutes total. Transfer chicken to a plate and keep warm.

Add onion to the pan. Cook, stirring for 1 minute. Increase heat to high and add wine. Cook, scraping up browned bits, until liquid is reduced, about 2 minutes. Reduce heat to medium and stir in cream, any accumulated juices from chicken and remaining 1/8 tsp salt and pepper.

Stir in pesto and tomatoes then return chicken to the pan. Turn to coat; cook until heated through, about 1 to 2 minutes.

Sprinkle the chicken with the fresh chopped basil before serving.

Provençal Bread – from Jacques Pepin

- 1 (1 lb) bag of fresh pizza dough
- Cornmeal, for dusting
- Olive oil, for brushing
- 1 TBSP Herbes de Provence

Let pizza dough sit on the counter for 30 to 45 minutes.

Line a rimmed baking sheet with tin foil. Spread out the dough on the baking sheet, using your hands to form a large oval shape. Make 4 diagonal slices in the dough, cutting all the way through the dough. Using your fingers, open up the slices a bit.

Let the dough sit on the counter for another 30 to 45 minutes.

Sprinkle the top of the dough with a light dusting of cornmeal. Then brush the entire top with olive oil. Season with coarse salt and black pepper and sprinkle the top with Herbes de Provence.

Bake in a 450 degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes.

If you can’t find Herbes de Provence, use a mix of dried basil, oregano, thyme and dill.
